

Learning opportunities for Edward Example

	Outcomes: Edward will use sounds and pointing to let Mom and Dad know what choice he is making to prevent him becoming frustrated and having a tantrum. Edward will feed himself small pieces of food that he likes during mealtimes.
	Behavior/skill Making a choice of two objects	Behavior/Skill Learning that sounds can mean objects	Behavior/Skill Picking up small pieces of food
Eating breakfast, lunch, dinner	Parents will offer Edward a choice of two foods. If he indicates one by looking at it or pointing, give him this choice.	When Edward looks at the food he is eating, use the word e.g. cracker. Wait until you see he is looking at the item.	Parents will offer Edward chunks of food to hold, when he is hungry.
Riding in the car	Parents will offer Edward a choice of two toys when he is in his car seat. Use the Velcro to attach the toy so he doesn't drop it.	When Edward looks at the toy he is using, use the word e.g. car. Wait until you see he is looking at the item.
Going to the grocery store	Parents will offer Edward a choice of two toys when he is in the cart. Use the Velcro to attach the toy so he doesn't drop it. They will also let Edward chose between different items to go into the cart. E.g.	When picking up objects and putting them in the cart show them to Edward and say the name of the object. Hold it near your face so he looks at your face and the object.
Bath time	Parents will offer Edward a choice of two toys in the bath, and when he wants a new toy. They will let him chose which baby shampoo to use, and which color towel.	When picking up toys and putting them in the bath show them to Edward and say the name of the object.
